DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Wood (USP 5,805,433). Wood (see figure 3) discloses a DC/DC converter circuit with high side (1) and low side transistors (2), a PWM (104) controlled output, and a sensor for detecting a level of an intermediate node potential (VS) at a junction point of the high side and low side transistor.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 2-25-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The added limitation "wherein the detection circuit is directly connected to the high side transistor and the low side transistor at the junction point so as to directly detect the intermediate node potential therefrom", the cited prior art discloses this limitation, of a direct connection of the sensing/ detecting circuit is clearly shown and although the sensed voltage is a ratio of the voltage at the junction point, nonetheless the circuit is "directly detecting the intermediate node potential therefrom" which is required of the claims, the detected voltage at that point is the same voltage, once detected the voltage can be modified or not modified to allow the control circuit to handle this information. In essence, the same voltage is detected at the same voltage potential V_s , which corresponds to applicant's claimed potential point K. (figure 1)

There is no distinct values that differ from taken the sensing at the prior art's point, V_S and applicant's claimed potential point K, because the exact same voltage is being sensed here.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
